

Social Sciences Concentration: POLICY STUDIES

Students will learn about development of policies that relate to public institutions. Policy analysis, program evaluation, and project management of governmental and non-profit organizations, government relations, public affairs, survey or policy research organizations are some considerations of public policy courses.

Policy Studies Concentration Advising Checklist

One 200-level PST course* : 3 credits
___ PST 231: Principles of Microeconomics
___ PST 232: Principles of Macroeconomics
___ PST 250: Special Topics in Policy Studies
___ PST 296: Directed Study

*May include any cross-listed ECO course

Three required courses as follows:
___ PST 301: Theories of Policy Formation 3 credits
___ PST 350: Public Policy Problems 3 credits
___ PST 390: Policy Studies Internship 3 credits

One 400-level PST course* 3 credits
___ PST 450: Special Topics in Policy Studies
___ PST 495: Independent Study
___ PST 496: Directed Study

*May include any 400-level course cross-listed with ECO or SOC

Note: PST 102 is a pre-requisite for PST 350. PST 102 and PST 201 are pre-requisites for PST 390.