With a focus on our students and a commitment to providing an enriched educational environment, the College of Engineering at UMass Dartmouth creates and disseminates knowledge through research and teaching. U.S. News & World Report ranks the College of Engineering in the top 150 engineering schools among doctorate granting universities, and UMass Dartmouth as a national research university.

- $106M
  - UMass Dartmouth students receive approximately $106 million total in scholarships, grants, part-time employment, and loans

- $74,000
  - average entry-level salary for 2022 graduates with a bachelor’s degree in engineering

- 84%
  - of full-time undergraduates who apply for financial aid receive it

- 70%
  - of engineering undergraduates completed an internship or undergraduate research. Internship sites include Titleist, Bose Corporation, eBay, Hewlett-Packard, National Grid, and Pratt & Whitney

- #4
  - as a best value Massachusetts college for in-state students – Payscale

- #1%
  - Top 1% in engineering of institutions nationwide awarding doctoral degrees to women – ASEE (2021)

- Top 150
  - engineering schools among doctorate granting universities, and UMass Dartmouth as a national research university - U.S. News & World Report

- $3.8M
  - Endowed scholarships for engineering students

- $24.3M
  - Current research funding

- #13
  - as Best Online Master’s in Computer Science Degrees in 2022 – Fortune

- #30
  - for best online master’s programs in computer science - College Choice

- 99%
  - of 2022 graduates from the College of Engineering are either employed or attending graduate school

- #1
  - for social mobility among universities in New England with a nationally ranked college of engineering - 2023 U.S. News & World Report

- 6
  - academic departments, approximately

- 16
  - academic program areas,

- 900
  - undergraduate students, and more than

- 700
  - graduate students

- #1
  - Endowed scholarships for engineering students

The bioengineering, civil, computer, electrical, and mechanical engineering programs at UMass Dartmouth are accredited by the Engineering Accreditation Commission of ABET.

The computer science program is accredited by the Computing Accreditation Commission of ABET.